

Do you want to make a decisive career step? Would you like to work for a unique and leading, owner-managed FMCG company? If yes, please continue reading – it is indeed worth it!

Our client employs over 2,200 people worldwide and runs several manufacturing sites across the globe including manufacturing business units in Indonesia. The company is successful with its FMCG brands on a worldwide scale and truly lives its mission statement and core values. It acts globally and, at the same time, entrusts its local key people with a lot of responsibility.

On behalf of our client we are now looking for a

General Manager Indonesia

based in Jember area who will be responsible for establishing, planning, managing and controlling of the production sites in Jember.

In this unique role, you will especially:

- manage two production sites
- coordinate all infrastructure and EHS
- develop all requirements concerning People & Organization, Quality & Quantity, Cost, and Law & Regulations
- report directly to the HQ in Europe

You should have profound experience, especially in terms of:

- managing manufacturing processes without high automation in FMCG industry
- Indonesian labor and customs law/regulations
- international group work environment
- leadership and people management
- general business administration

Simple to the point: we are looking for an entrepreneurially driven, multiculturally established personality who is passionate about the work, loves challenges, is open to new ideas and, last but not least, has a hands-on approach.

If we were able to raise your further interest, we are very much looking forward to receiving your application in English to applications@sergey-frank.com. Furthermore, Elena Reinhold will be happy to answer your questions by telephone: +49 (0)341 30 82 11 20.
